

● Who I Was. Who I Became. Why Stoday Exists.

I used to think students who studied for hours were disciplined. Focused. Impressive.
Now I see it clearly: most of them are just stuck. Stuck in a system that sells effort, not progress.
And I was one of them.

I was the kid who followed the rules. Went to extra classes. Burned my mom's money on worksheets and revision packs.
Teachers sat at the front like gods, and we sat in silence, wasting time we'd never get back.
That's when something cracked. I realised — this wasn't education. This was business.

But I was lucky. I had one thing most students never get: the space to think for myself.
I started asking why. Why does everyone study the same way? Why does no one question the grind?
Why are we spending hours studying... only to forget it all by exam day?

I didn't get smarter by chance. I paid attention. I trained my brain.
I started seeing patterns, testing methods, and thinking for the long term.
Not just "how to pass this test," but "how do I actually understand this?"
Eventually, I got A-levels that I'm still proud of — and was accepted into the top pharmacy school in London.
Even when I couldn't afford it, I knew one thing: I had cracked something powerful.

That's where Stoday Plus began.
Not as a product. Not as a brand.
But as a quiet decision:
I'm done wasting time. I want freedom. And I'm going to build the system myself.

● What Most Students Get Wrong

They follow what they're told — revise by re-reading, copying notes, watching tutorials, doing worksheets.
They study hard, but not smart.
They call it discipline. But what it really is... is fear.
Fear of falling behind. Fear of failure. Fear of doing it differently.

Nobody's teaching them how to think.
How to learn faster.
How to see the big picture.
And worst of all? They start believing that maybe they're just "not smart enough."

That's the lie I'm here to break.

● What I Built (and Why You'll Feel It Too)

I built a system that respects the student's mind — not the institution's deadlines.

I call it Stoday Plus — short for Study Today, because that's the only moment that matters.

It's built on:

- Daily flow — no overwhelm, just clean, short bursts of real study
- Deep recall — techniques like active recall, spaced rep, Feynman
- Zero guilt — if you do just 30 minutes, you're winning. Every day.

But more than that — it's a mindset.

It's knowing that 15 minutes of smart effort is better than 3 hours of mindless notes.

It's walking into an exam calm, because your system already works.

It's waking up and saying: "I study because I choose to. Not because I have to."

● Why I Care

I didn't build this because I love helping people.

I built this because I hate seeing people stuck in a loop that breaks them.

And because I believe this system is evergreen. It will work for life.

And yeah — I want this brand to become a legacy. Something that earns forever, scales forever, helps forever.

But most of all?

I want you to look at your life and say:

"This isn't working. I can't keep doing it like this."

That moment — that snap — is where everything starts.

So if you've ever felt behind...

If you've ever questioned whether it's even worth trying anymore...

If you've ever wished someone would just show you the way out —

You've found it.

Stoday Plus isn't just a study system.
It's your reminder that your future doesn't wait.
And 30 minutes a day is all it takes to change it.

Let's begin.

